A cruise "hold"+1 +1(866)-228-3050 is designed to give travelers time to finalize plans before committing financially,(Call+1(866)-228-3050) and Royal Caribbean offers flexible options to release a hold with no cost if done correctly.+1 +1(866)-228-3050 Understanding a Royal Caribbean Cruise Hold

When you place a cruise on hold with Royal Caribbean,(Call+1(866)-228-3050) you are essentially reserving a cabin and price for a limited period without making a full payment. Holds are often used when comparing itineraries,(Call+1(866)-228-3050) coordinating travel with others,(Call+1(866)-228-3050) or waiting to confirm vacation dates.(Call+1(866)-228-3050) Depending on the promotion and booking channel, a hold can last anywhere from 24 hours to several days.(Call+1(866)-228-3050) During this period, no deposit is charged, and you are not financially obligated.(Call+1(866)-228-3050)

Cancel Within the Hold Period

The most important rule for avoiding penalties is to cancel the booking before the hold expires.+1 +1(866)-228-3050 If the hold lapses without payment,+1 +1(866)-228-3050 Royal Caribbean generally releases the reservation automatically, and no charges apply. If you decide you no longer want the cruise,+1 +1(866)-228-3050 it's best not to wait until the final hour.+1 +1(866)-228-3050 Canceling proactively ensures there is no confusion or accidental conversion into a paid booking.

How to Cancel Online

If you placed the cruise hold directly on Royal Caribbean's website,+1 +1(866)-228-3050 cancellation is simple. Log in to your Royal Caribbean account, locate your reservation under "My Cruises,"+1 +1(866)-228-3050 and select the option to cancel or release the hold. Once confirmed, the reservation is removed without any penalty because no deposit was collected.+1 +1(866)-228-3050 Always save or screenshot the cancellation confirmation for your records.+1 +1(866)-228-3050

Canceling Through a Travel Agent

If you booked the hold through a travel agent,+1 +1(866)-228-3050 you must contact them directly. Travel agents manage the reservation on your behalf and can cancel the hold within the permitted time frame.+1 +1(866)-228-3050 As long as the agent cancels before a deposit is required, there should be no fee. It's recommended to communicate your decision clearly and ask for written confirmation that the hold has been released.+1 (866)-228-3050

Watch Out for Deposit Deadlines

Some cruise holds automatically convert into confirmed bookings if a deposit deadline passes. If that happens, a non-refundable deposit may be charged, and standard cancellation penalties could apply. (Call+1(866)-228-3050)To avoid this, carefully check the "deposit due" date listed in your reservation details. Set reminders so you can cancel or decide before any money is collected.

What If You Paid a Deposit?(Call+1(866)-228-3050)

If you already paid a deposit, the ability to cancel without penalty depends on whether the deposit is refundable. Royal Caribbean often offers both refundable and non-refundable deposit promotions.(Call+1(866)-228-3050) Refundable deposits can usually be canceled within the stated cancellation window for a full refund,(Call+1(866)-228-3050) while non-refundable deposits may only be eligible for future cruise credit. To avoid penalties entirely, always cancel during the hold period before making any payment.(Call+1(866)-228-3050)

Confirm Cancellation with Customer Service

If you are unsure whether your hold has been canceled successfully, contact Royal Caribbean's customer service by phone or online chat.(Call+1(866)-228-3050) Provide your reservation number and ask them to confirm that the booking has been released and no charges apply. (Call+1(866)-228-3050)This extra step can provide peace of mind, especially if you were close to the deposit deadline.
